MEET MARY CHICHU

What she says

She is very active and knows the worldly fantasies and societal behaviour. She enjoys being with friends and even being inside a new group. She is aware of human emotions and likes certain fellows in her class at the same time dislikes a few due to their arrogant nature. She likes to do every activity in front of the crowd as she is very much fond of appreciation. She loves her mother a lot and becomes so sensitive while speaking about her family. She likes to dance for new songs and very active to study new dance forms. She likes to be in school as she is so friendly with the instructors and fellow students.

What she thinks

She is extremely different from all other fellow students of her class as her mental capacity and skills are far better than them. She thinks that students who are good in academics and other extracurricular activities will be the favourites of everyone. Thus she is ready to do any activity that is appreciated. She thinks that the love, care and affection that one shows to her is real and trust worthy, therefore gets too much intimate with those persons.

What she does

She is a good listener, speaker and very obedient in class activities.

- Starts her day in the school with prayer and exercises.
- Studies and writes without any commands.
- Eats food without any complaints.
- Very active and energetic in class.
- Shows interest in both academics and games.
- Possess some of the possessive nature of human character and thus sometimes regret to help others.
- Great interest in extracurricular activities.

How she feels

She always keeps a smile on her face. She is mostly very positive towards all situations. She used to scold and tease the one who hurts her. There is no particular mood swings for her but at the same time if something is indifferent for her it is evident from her face. The one who scolds her and shows an arrogant nature in class by supervising others automatically falls under her enemy's list. She is mostly comfortable with Rubiya who is her best friend and thus shares everything with her.

How creative Mary is?

Mary is a fast learner both in academics and in extracurricular activities. Thus she provides a quick response to all the activities while having an interaction with her. She had already learnt dance and received many prizes for her performances. She is a good singer and has the ability to learn the lyrics of the song quickly. She is a good painter and also a creative craft maker thus really needs a platform for her to expose her talents.

How to be a good friend of Mary

Understanding the personal interests of Mary and to be a part of it makes her happy and she becomes more approachable for others. As she is the most active student of the class she easily becomes the favourites of everyone. As she is beauty conscious and fond of appreciation, she likes the one who makes the comment on these things. Thus it's very easy to become a good friend of Mary while compared to others. As she is aware of the outside world and good manners, she is obedient and self-focused in class. Thus it's also easy for the instructors to handle her.

What scares Mary

Though Mary always keeps a smile on her face she is very much indifferent towards scolding's, making mistakes and criticisms. She is happy to receive new things and face new peoples but easily gets scared and unhappy when one doesn't shows affection to her. She is too sensitive to handle human emotions. She easily gets irritated towards any kind of disturbances while or drawing something that matters her the most.

YES! Mary IS GIFTED

It will be really a privilege for everyone if they interact with Mary. She is really gifted with all the talents and skills. She possess all the human natural behaviour and tends to respond according to the situations. She is a fast learner in academics but has short term memory loss. She keeps her book neatly and possess an excellent handwriting. She is simple and friendly towards everyone thus even doesn't hesitate to mingle with new faces.

She is so creative and captures everything very easily. Such a talented girl, who is good in everything, will be rare. Thus there should be more opportunities for her to improve her skills in a well-defined manner and more platforms to expose her talents. There should be more chances provided for her to get mingle with the outside world and sometimes to be a part among them as she can teach them something new.

Her smile is her trademark as she always keeps a smiling face. The active approach and sincerity that she shows in every activity is something that should be learnt from her.
